Audio:

Playback system that is MP3 compatible with sufficient speakers to match and mimic actual musicians during performance sections of the Clinic.

Backline:

The Host is responsible for arranging drums, hardware, cymbals, PA system, playback, handouts and any other materials required for the Clinic. The Host is also responsible for providing or hiring a tech.

If the Host is a school or other venue where drums, PA, etc. are not readily available, the Host is responsible for contacting a backline company to obtain the appropriate items. Any cartage and preparation fees, charged at the backline company's discretion are to be paid by the Host.

Venue:

The Host is required to secure a proper venue to accommodate the stage and expected attendance. If the Host's store, school auditorium, etc is appropriate according to the clinician's expectations, it can serve as the venue. Otherwise, the Host is responsible for renting a suitable hall for a One-Off.

Promotion:

The Host is responsible for promoting the Clinic properly. This typically includes: customer mailing, local newspaper, radio, in-store signage, flyers and handouts. Any confirmed co-sponsor shall have their name and/or logo appear on all printed and promotional materials associated with the Clinic.

Billing:

If, by performing this engagement, Artist will be assessed any State, Provincial, or Municipal taxes, Purchaser agrees to pay the taxable amount. Purchaser agrees not to deduct any State or local taxes from Artist's fees. Purchaser agrees to provide all necessary tax forms required by law, with regard to taxes levied by the State, Province or Municipality, to Artist with the return of the signed contracts and rider. Artist agrees to fill out these forms and return them to Purchaser, immediately thereafter.
